

Italian Flair at the capital of the Alps – Enjoy the newly designed rooms at the Grand Hotel Europa Innsbruck

Distinctive lines and modern design characterise the newly renovated rooms of the Grand Hotel Europa. In the course of the ongoing renovation, the first four floors of Innsbruck's only five star hotel have now been finished.

Innsbruck. „Our new rooms with their enthusing warm and elegant colours underline the modern and clear design of the hotel's architect Dott. Raniero Botti. The pleasant lighting in combination with the extra reading lamp at the bed provide a relaxing room atmosphere” Mr Arthur Guelfenburg, GM of the Grand Hotel Europa, is happy to announce. In addition the smart and well integrated technological components of the new design rooms leave nothing to be desired.

Also the meeting rooms "Theresien Salon" & "Adler Salon" have undergone a modern face-lift matching the new style of the hotel lobby.

Supreme Italian Design

Architect Dott. Raniero Botti, who also designed the "Europa Bar" at the hotel in 2008, exceeded the expectations by designing the new rooms in his typical stylish, modern Italian Design. Guelfenburg: "The total investment for the Grand Hotel Europa amounts up to 15 million Euros. We expect the renovation to be finished by summer of 2010."

The Grand Hotel Europa inspires

Established in 1869, the Grand Hotel Europa has always been the first address for sophisticated guests visiting the capital of Tyrol. In 2007 Innsbruck's only 5 star hotel was taken over by the "Palenca Luxury Hotels", a small but fine Italian hotel group founded 1999 in Rome. The philosophy of the group is based on high quality and attentiveness to the customer in exceptional hotels.

The ongoing renovation at the Grand Hotel Europa enhances the standard of the first-class rooms and suites and creates an interesting fusion between traditional ambience and modern design.
